

Check Out the Billboards

Name _____

Do you check out billboards and posters you see around town to discover what special events are coming to your community, such as sports exhibitions or rock concerts? Design an eye-catching billboard to advertise the literary evenings sponsored in the town. Be sure to include the important details such as what, where, and when. You can include activities from the book or add some of your own that would entice people to attend. Remember – they were free.
