Tabloid Newspaper

Imaginative/Narrative Essay

Name_____

Have you ever seen a tabloid newspaper? Typically you find them at the grocery store checkout. A tabloid newspaper or magazine reports on sensational and lurid news. They tend to focus on celebrities and high-profile investigations.

Imagine you are a reporter for a tabloid magazine. You have been given the assignment of writing about Grace's murder. When you write the article, be sure to focus on the attention-grabbing, sensational aspects. Tabloid writers tend to focus more on the people involved in the story than the actual events. Feel free to use words that exaggerate the circumstances. Don't tell lies! Just find clever and interesting ways to tell the truth of the story. Also, include an attention-grabbing headline to create interest in the story.

© Copyright Professional Development Institute
Permission granted to reproduce this page for one teacher's use only.